By-election Today In Lancashire Riding; Four Candidates

WIGAN, Lancs., Eng. (CP)—This four north England manufacturing town voted today in the 38th. by-election since the Labor government came into power in 1945.

The pre-election campaign was enlivened by Owen L. Roberts, the most dramatic of four candidates, who ran as the "King of the Cavalier" and appeared on main streets wearing a three-cornered hat, ringing a handbell and shouting "Oyez! Oyez!" before reading handbills asking support.

Roberts, 30-year-old wartime Pathfinder navigator with the R.A.F., was given scant notice, however. Political strategists said they believed the main fight was between R. W. Williams, solicitor, who hoped to hold the seat for Labor, and Harold Dowling, a Conservative-backed schoolmaster, who expected at least to reduce the Labor majority of 16,726 votes in 1945.

Tom Rowlandson was the Communist entry and his campaign was marked by a sharp attack on the government's wage control policies.

The by-election was made necessary by the death of William Foster, veteran Labor member.

Winston Churchill, Conservative Party leader, gave Dowling his blessing with a message saying Wigan voters could gain the distinction of "giving the most dangerous government of modern times its notice to quit."

"The longer we wait the worse it will be," Churchill added.

Williams received similar messages from Labor Party leaders. A well-known authority on miners' compensation cases, Williams canvassed the mine workers in the constituency and met employees in cotton mills, clothing factories and engineering works.

Weather

Synopsis—The storm which is approaching the Alaskan Peninsula this morning has brought rain and southeasterly gales to the northern coast and cloudy to overcast skies to the southern coastal regions.

Overcast skies and higher temperatures are reported from the northern and central interior this morning while skies remain clear over the southern interior.

Precipitation is expected to spread to northern Vancouver Island and into the northern interior by tonight. Intermittent rain will spread down the remainder of the coast and into the central sections of the province tomorrow. Clearing skies are expected over the northern coast in the wake of the storm.

Vancouver and vicinity, lower Fraser Valley—Cloudy today and tonight. Overcast Friday with intermittent rain in the afternoon. Winds light increasing to easterly 15 this evening. Little change in temperature.

Navy And Air Cadets Back From Training Trips

A group of the 67 naval cadets from the Joint R.C.N.-R.C.A.F. College, H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, who returned from their training program Wednesday afternoon, stand on the deck of H.M.C.S. Antigonish as the frigate comes alongside her berth at the Naval Dockyard, Esquimalt. Antigonish, commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. C. A. Law, D.S.C., R.C.N., Victoria, detached from H.M.C.S. Ontario and Crescent off Santa Barbara for passage back to her west coast base, after a month's operation with the cruiser and destroyer.

Looking like fighter pilots just in from an operation are the four R.C.A.F. cadets from Royal Roads. These cadets, part of the 34 who spent a month in Trenton, Ont., for actual experience with their service, are shown immediately after arrival at the R.C.A.F. station, Patricia Bay, with the Dakota which flew them in on the last leg of their trip from Trenton in the background. They are, left to right: Bill Bradenburg, Preston, Ont.; Vic Wilcox, Beeton, Ont.; Carleton Longmuir, Havelock, Ont., and Walt Ryall, Vernon, B.C.—R.C.N. photos.

Labor Congress Urges Broadening Of Social Security Legislation

OTTAWA (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress said today in a brief presented to the cabinet that Canada has "urgent need" of a national social security program.

The T.L.C. said it favors social security legislation on a contributory basis covering all citizens regardless of income. The program should include, in addition to the existing unemployment insurance plan, "a full and comprehensive health insurance scheme, accident and hospitalization benefits, old age pensions, mothers' and widows' allowances."

VOTES FOR 18-YEAR-OLDS

Other recommendations:

1. That immigration be the "exclusive responsibility" of government.

2. That the vote be given to all citizens over 18.

3. Prohibition of injunctions in labor disputes "at least until both sides have been given an opportunity of appearing and stating their side of the case."

4. A 40-hour work week for all employees under federal jurisdiction.

5. Maintenance of the CBC "as a government-owned utility with full control in the issuing of licenses for the operation of all Canadian broadcasting stations."

6. Appointment of a parliamentary committee to examine and amend the Canada Shipping Act.

The brief noted that "one has to admit that progress has not been rapid" in the light of 65 years of requesting labor and social legislation. The congress started annual submissions 65 years ago.

"However, as a result of these submissions, a great deal of valuable legislation has been enacted to the benefit of the working people and to most Canadian citizens."

The congress said it realized the difficulties caused by the British North America Act in connection with an "all-embracing social security program."

"However, we do feel that this museum piece of legislation should not be allowed to persistently stand in the way of progress toward a better life for all of our citizens."

The brief urged protection of the Canadian standard of living by re-establishment of price controls on all essential goods and by imposition of a 100 per cent tax on excess profits.

The congress said it was not in accord with all provisions of Bill 338, the labor code legislation introduced during the last session of Parliament, but was "prepared to accept it as drafted as a good start in the right direction."

The "fear of insecurity" was a factor in the lives of most Canadians and was not allayed by "the disgraceful treatment meted to our aged citizens." The T.L.C. urged a "full and proper" old age pension system, with those qualifying reduced to 60 years.

Policy Indication Expected In Johnson Speech Tomorrow

Premier Byron Johnson, in his first speech in the B.C. Legislature since he assumed the leadership of the Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition administration, tomorrow afternoon will outline policies on many of the problems now confronting the Provincial government.

The speech, commonly known as the "policy" speech, will take about an hour to deliver. Mr. Johnson is scheduled to begin speaking at 3 in the afternoon. He is the sole speaker scheduled for the Legislature Friday.

While brief details of some of the government's legislative program have been given in the Speech from the Throne, read by Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks on the opening day of the House Tuesday, Mr. Johnson is expected to expand this program and make several important announcements concerning government policy on topics not mentioned in the Speech from the Throne.

With the session tomorrow in its fourth day, the "policy" speech will come much earlier in the debate on the Speech from the Throne than is usual. The budget address, which Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb will deliver in about two weeks, and the "policy" speech of the Premier are the most important normally given at a session of the provincial Legislature.

OTTAWA (CP)—The official cost-of-living index jumped another 1.8 points during January and reached 150.1 at Feb. 2 against 148.3 at Jan. 2. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced this afternoon.

Shipping Strike May Soon Be Felt In Victoria Harbor

Victoria may soon feel the direct effects of the Canadian deep-sea engineers' and radio operators' strike, it was learned today.

Ken Briggs, of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, reports the Canadian freighter Harmac Cheminus is due at Ogden Point docks Monday to load lumber for the United Kingdom. However, whether or not the ship will reach here on the scheduled date depends on settlement of the strike.

Another vessel which may not keep on her shipping schedule is the Canadian freighter Lake Chilliwick, due at James Island Tuesday to load explosives for China. She is at present tied up at the Terminal City Dock in Vancouver.

There is one freighter which will reach here. She is the British freighter Fort Froisher, whose British crew is not affected by the engineers' and radio operators' dispute which is tying up Canadian deep-sea vessels on Atlantic and Pacific coasts. She is due here a week Friday to load lumber for the U.K.

Canada To Bar Communists; Enforce Immigration Act

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to proceed with the barring of Communists from Canada under existing legislation, it was learned today.

For several weeks the cabinet has been considering the question of how to proceed against the entry of Reds—particularly among labor union officials from the United States—and an informed source said it had finally come to the conclusion this week it could move under the Immigration Act.

In line with an interpretation of the act to this effect after a study by the Justice Department, immediate action for the barring of Reds has been ordered.

It was understood no steps will be taken to deport known or suspected alien Communists already in the country. Action for the time being will be confined to those trying to cross the border. It was expected, however, that entry permits held by alien Reds now in Canada, these would not be renewed.

Czechoslovak Communists Sending New Envoy To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Czechoslovakia's new Communist government already has an envoy on the way to replace the ambassador to the United States who quit rather than serve a "police state."

Diplomatic officials said today Irvin Munk was named minister-counselor to Washington after last week's Red coup in Prague. Due in New York Monday, he thus was en route when ambassador Juraj Slavik quit his post Wednesday to "fight for Czechoslovak democracy."

Munk is slated to become charge d'affaires. In that capacity he will head the embassy staff which did not immediately follow the ambassador into voluntary exile.

The State Department, meanwhile, is prepared to assure Slavik that he is welcome to remain in the United States. But whether he can look for official support in his announced attempt to rally Czech "patriots" against the new government of Prime Minister Klement Gottwald is something else again.

If the established pattern is followed, there will be no break in formal diplomatic relations with Prague. In the absence of such a break, Slavik and other Czech exiles could expect no more backing than similar refugees from Poland, Hungary and other Soviet satellite states.

COURSE NOT DISCLOSED
In announcing his resignation Slavik did not say whether he had specific action in mind.

Already in recent voluntary exile in the United States are Hungary's former Premier Ferenc Nagy, ex-Hungarian minister Aladar Szegedy-Maszar, Poland's recent Vice-Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, and Agrarian Party leaders from Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

But the United States gives diplomatic recognition only to the envoys of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia—the three Baltic states which Russia absorbed in the early days of the war.

Meanwhile, Dr. Slavik reported today he got an angry bawling out by telephone from Prague because of his resignation as ambassador.

Slavik denounced the new Communist-controlled government of Czechoslovakia Wednesday when he announced his resignation. He told reporters today that later he had a phone call from Czechoslovakia's deputy foreign minister, Vladimir Clementis, a Communist.

He said the conversation went: Clementis: It is true that you have resigned as our ambassador.

Slavik: Yes. Clementis: Do you know what is being said here of you? It is being said you are a characterless betrayer of your country.

Slavik: I was acting on my conscience. I cannot work for a Communist government.

Clementis: I'm finished with you.

Slavik chuckled to reporters that he "knew I was through with the Czech government, as it is today" when he resigned.

Chemists Baffled Over Color Faults To License Plates

George A. Hood, superintendent of motor vehicles for British Columbia, reported today that provincial chemists are "baffled" as to the reason of the faulty 1948 issue of vehicle license plates.

However, he stressed that it is up to the individual car owner to keep their license plates legible under the Motor Vehicle Act and that if they are faulty it is their responsibility to take steps to rectify this.

He said investigations are continuing to ascertain the cause of the trouble in the plate colorings. "So far we have been unable to find the trouble," he said, noting that this problem along with the usual heavy load of the department issuing the licenses at this time of year had created a big problem.

While some drivers here are taking steps to avert the discoloring by having their plates lacquered, the superintendent pointed out that there was the danger of the same trouble arising when the coat has worn off. While he could not guarantee the replacements will not turn the same way, Superintendent Hood advises motorists to turn them in for new sets.

Not all of the plates issued have turned out to be faulty.

Find Man Hanging in Lover's Lane

A 50-year-old man of Polish descent from Manitoba who recently arrived in Victoria, was found dead yesterday afternoon hanging from a rope fastened to a tree in Beacon Hill Park. He had been in poor health and police have labeled it suicide.

One end of a 10-foot sash rope was fastened around his neck and the other to a limb of a tree on the south side of Lover's Lane. It is believed he had been hanging there for several hours. Police received the call at 4:15.

On the dead man was found $61.50 in cash and a gold watch and chain. A gold ring, five bank books and $30 in war savings' certificates were found in his room, also two letters written in Polish.

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons this afternoon that statements attributed to Premier Duplessis of Quebec in connection with the Polish state treaties were "ridiculous" and a "dumb but deliberate" attempt to smear the Quebec ministers in the federal government.

4 Children Neglected

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Four small children were rescued Wednesday night from a dirty back-room prison where they had lived in squalor, juvenile authorities said, and ate "out of tin plates like puppies." The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Carney, were held in the city jail on a charge of suspicion of neglect of minor children.

THE GASOLINE CRISIS

REGARDLESS OF THE MERITS OR DEMERITS OF THE CASE OF WHETHER OR NOT the oil companies are getting enough for the product which they sell to the retailers of this province, and notwithstanding the low margin of profit left for the latter, the state of affairs now seriously worrying business and the public in this community—and presumably others as well—is that in a few days the gasoline pumps of local dealers may have run dry. This means, if it means anything at all, that some of the major commercial activities in the Greater Victoria area will be suffering a great deal more than most people now realize.

Into such complicated issues as the supply and distribution of a manufactured commodity which is produced in the raw in another country the layman hesitates to throw in his untutored oar. But it does not require the wisdom of a Solomon to suggest that it ought to be feasible and possible for the provincial government, either on its own or through the agency of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board, to devise ways and means whereby supplies of this liquid energy shall be made available in adequate quantities during a period such as may be required to come to some agreement on the broader or long-term problem. For it assuredly will not be seriously argued that even a case of the "irresistible force and the immovable object" is a permanent condition. In the meantime, however, business in particular and the public in general await an official solvent.

TIMELY WORDS

THE CHARGE OF THE BRITISH

Labor Party executive committee, that the Communist success in taking over the government of Czechoslovakia was made possible by Socialists who "played ball" with the followers of Marx, is a warning that should be heeded in every land where political freedom still exists in fact as well as on paper. Canada, no less than other democratic countries, has had a taste of Communist machinations in the form of espionage and deliberately-incited strikes. And although the Socialist Party of this Dominion—the C.C.F.—has assiduously shouldered all attempts of the Communists to effect an official joining of forces, it is apparent—as witness the recent Saanich by-election—that the party which points its finger at the Kremlin is increasingly anxious to get aboard the Socialist party wagon and ride it as far as is found necessary. This has been done with success in certain European countries to an extent which indicates it could happen here.

What occurs in such an event has been demonstrated clearly in the last few days. A parallel attempt is now under way in Finland. In the words of the British Labor Party statement from London: "No clearer demonstration could be possible that Communists consider as enemies all those who do not surrender unconditionally to their slightest whim." The statement adds two other very pertinent observations: "Communists cannot achieve their aims without support from a minority within the camp of democratic socialism;" and, "Individual Socialists, by permitting or abetting Communist attacks on democracy, have connived at their own destruction."

The situation as regards militant Communism could not have been better summed up. The people of Canada, Britain, the United States, France and Italy, to name a few besieged countries, would do well to mark it.

BURIED IN AN ENIGMA?

IN HIS CONTRIBUTION TO THE CURRENT B.C. Teacher, official organ of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, "Uncle John," a regular correspondent, seeks to explain the reason for the present report forms which are issued periodically by schools to inform parents of their children's progress. With some logic he points to the difficulties that arose from the earlier cards which listed by percentages and, later, by alphabetic symbols, the degree of proficiency shown by students in various subjects. His point is well taken when he notes that different teachers had different standards and that what might be taken as a high average in one district with a lenient teacher, would not measure up in another area in which the marking was more exacting. He then deals with the present form:

"So now we have the present system arranged to give the parents as little information as possible, because we have no really definite information to give. If the department would give us standardized tests we might really be able to tell the parents more or less accurately how much their little darlings are really learning."

There seems to be logic in the suggestion—in spite of the fact that learning does not necessarily find a true reflection in high marks at examinations. At all events a return to the old style reports would not reduce fathers and mothers to a state of frustration when they attempt to determine their children's standings from the cards which are now sent home.

SOMEWHAT PREMATURE

SURELY VANCOUVER'S MAYOR JONES

and Victoria's Mayor George are displaying indecent haste in their individual allusions to what at the moment is certainly a hypothetical case. The chief magistrate of the mainland city, for example, says that he and his council would oppose the provincial government's proposed sales tax unless the proceeds are devoted solely to the municipalities. The civic head of this capital city in a statement which is considerably "if-y" infers that the government's plan appears to be one to "fill its own coffers with the lion's share of the proceeds," adding that a one-third share allotted to the municipalities would be "entirely insufficient for the purpose."

Mayor Jones is entitled to say what he thinks about something which the government so far has not even mentioned, Mayor George, following the Vancouver chief magistrate's lead in respect of unannounced policy, enjoys the same privilege. But they are certainly manifesting no desire to assist the new leader of the administration, let alone their well-understood and justified appeals for more liberal treatment from the provincial treasury, when they proceed to lay down the law according to their own lights without the least foundation upon which to base their gratuitous advice and warnings. Regardless of what Premier Johnson may or may not have in the back of his mind on the subject under civic discussion, it is assuredly within the bounds of reason to suggest to the chief magistrates of the province's two largest cities that they display a little patience—to "hold their horses," as it were, until the head of the administration and his ministerial colleagues have had time and opportunity to consider and deal publicly with a matter upon which both Mayor Jones and Mayor George have presumed to render their joint verdict.

COLD WAR VICTIM

FROM THE SAFETY OF THAT traditional political haven, Great Britain, and on the eve of departure to the United States, ex-King Michael of Romania has issued a statement repudiating his abdication of last Dec. 30 and affirming his determination to "continue to serve the Romanian people with which my destiny is inextricably bound." Michael claims—and there is no reason to doubt his version of the occurrence—that Romanian cabinet ministers Petru Groza and Gheorgiu-Dej forced him to sign the abdication by a threat of general bloodshed, after the palace had been surrounded by armed detachments. Michael terms this a "new act of violence in the policy of the enslavement of Romania," and lays further charges of falsification of elections, annihilation of democratic political leaders, and installation and maintenance of the government in power "by a foreign country" despite the will of the Romanian people.

A deposed ruler could not be more direct in charging those who usurped his power. There could be no more flagrant exhibition of foreign intervention in the domestic affairs of a sovereign state. A similar incident in prewar "normal" days would have stirred the world. Yet the fact is that the pattern has become so common, so routine, that the fall of Romania created headlines for only a day or two. The western public has become all too familiar with the sight of Russia's neighbors succumbing one by one under the weight of the hammer and sickle. And the process did not stop with the Baltic states, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Poland and Romania. Czechoslovakia was the latest victim. Finland, Greece, Turkey, France and Italy have been under prolonged duress. Russia wastes no time.

It is difficult to see at the present time what avenue Michael may choose to attempt to regain his throne. His prospects are anything but bright. The tactics of the Communists are such that after a certain stage they can be halted only by force. Where such force on behalf of the Romanian people could come from in the immediate future is hard to see. Michael's problems must no doubt await the final general settlement which the careening progress of Russian policies seems likely to precipitate.

OUT OF TUNE

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN EXPECTED that the greatness of Poland's contribution to the world of music would dispose the authorities of that country to look with tolerance on the works of foreigners who have given enjoyment to countless thousands. It might have been expected, for instance, that Richard Strauss would find favor among listeners who have thrilled to the compositions of their own masters. But it would appear that appreciation of music for music's sake falls in the gulf between the Polish administration and artists of opposing ideologies. Performances of Strauss music have been banned on the grounds the composer embraced tenets of Hitlerism. We presume the 84-year-old Austrian figure would have derived some tangible compensation from the performances that would otherwise have been given in Poland, and we can understand Polish opposition to giving any assistance to one identified with the Nazis. But it does seem to us that such cultural works transcend nationalism, and that little is gained by a country following the practices of Hitler, who banned music on the grounds of racial origin.

Any special problem is half solved when people can discuss it without insulting one another.

ROOSEVELT'S FOUR VICTORIES

THE UNITED STATES election this year will determine whether the Democratic Party can win five national elections in a row and so retain control of the executive branch of the government for a period of 20 years.

This would be a remarkable feat. Only twice before in American history has one party had so long a continuous term of power. The first was during and after the world war of Napoleon Bonaparte. The second was during and after the American civil war. The old Democratic-Republican Party under Jefferson, Madison, Monroe won six elections in a row, and was in power for 24 years. The Republican Party also won six elections in a row (though one of them was the disputed election of Hayes over Tilden in 1876) and was in power from the inauguration of Lincoln in 1860 until 1884—a period of 24 years.

THE FOUR ELECTIONS of the same President were, however, unique in American political history. President Truman's electoral campaign this year can best be understood by remembering that he is the successor of Roosevelt. He is now completing a term of office to which Roosevelt, the only President to be elected for more than two terms, was in fact elected. The character and the history of the Truman administration reflect this altogether abnormal situation.

Roosevelt's first two terms, won by defeating Hoover and Landon, were normal American elections under the two-party system. Twelve years of Republican rule brought a reaction against the Ins and in favor of the Outs. Before that, in 1920, eight years of Democratic rule and had brought a reaction to the Republicans.

ROOSEVELT WON his first two elections by huge popular majorities. He had 59 per cent of the popular vote against Hoover and 62 per cent against Landon. But in 1940, the normal pattern was broken by the European war. Had it not been for the war, it is fair to say, I think, that Roosevelt would not have been, indeed could not have been, the first President to run for a third elected term. It is certain that he would not and could not have run for a fourth term.

It is in the highest degree probable, moreover, that no other Democrat could have won the 1940 and the 1944 elections. For what other Democrat could have united the components of the New Deal coalition with the Republicans and Independents who put the issue of the war above all other issues?

But even at that Roosevelt's popular majority over Willkie (54 per cent) and Dewey (63.5 per cent) was much narrower than over Hoover and Landon. It was only in the Electoral College, where the solid south gives the Democratic Party a peculiar advantage, that his third and fourth victories were landslide.

IN 1940 THE ORIGINAL popular enthusiasm for Willkie was very great—quite comparable, it seems to me, with that of Eisenhower last autumn. The enthusiasm evaporated a month or so after Willkie's nomination when the Independent Republicans and the uncommitted voters, who hold the balance of power, realized that he could not unite and lead the Republican Party.

In 1944, Roosevelt won again, though by a reduced popular majority, solely and simply—I think almost every one would agree—because it seemed too great a risk to change the Commander-in-Chief at the climax of a war that was being won but had not yet been won.

THIS, THEN, is a Democratic administration and Mr. Truman is President owing to a most unusual combination of circumstances. For if the election of 1944 had not happened to fall due at the climax of the war, a Republican, and in all likelihood Mr. Dewey, would now be President.

Suppose the war against Germany had been won a year earlier, as conceivably it might have been if the view of Stimson, Marshall, and Bradley had prevailed. It is safe to say that Roosevelt would not have risked his life, and his reputation in history, on what would then have been the poor gamble for a fourth term. Or if he had, then like Wilson at the end of the First World War, like Churchill at the end of this war, he would almost surely have been defeated.

AND IF THE election had fallen later, after the war was won and after Roosevelt's death, we know what would have happened. Something very like what did happen in the midterm Congressional elections. The Democratic Party, which was united in 1944 on Roosevelt, would first have had to agree on his successor. The contest for Vice-President in Chicago in 1944 was sharp enough. Had Mr. Truman, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Byrnes been contending not for the Vice-Presidency but for the Presidency, it would have been no easy matter to select any one who united the party sufficiently to win the election.

It would have been a hard election to win if Mr. Truman or Mr. Wallace had had to run on his own personal strength and merit as a leader of the people. One can have little doubt, I think, that only Roosevelt in the special circumstances of 1944 could have won a fourth election for the Democrats.

The consequences of these extraordinary conditions in 1944 are the conditions of the election this year.

THEATRES AND HOMES

As one who was privileged to be present at the opening of the new theatre, allow me to comment as follows:

Much praise was given from the platform to the efforts of the promoters and builders who installed the wonderful modern improvements in lighting, acoustics, etc.

But when it was stated and repeated that Victoria is a city of homes, one could not help thinking of the many hundreds of heroes in the city who are waiting on a home after more than two years of peace.

U.B.C. RESOLUTION

The following resolution was passed unanimously by a mass meeting of University of British Columbia students.

Whereas the Canadian Citizenship Act guarantees equal rights to all citizens of this country; Whereas denial of these rights to any one group makes a mockery of Canadian citizenship;

Whereas Canada is committed to the ideals of the United Nations' Charter among which are "promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion";

Whereas many of the above freedoms are denied by the present discrimination against Canadian citizens of Japanese origin;

1. They are denied the right of franchise
2. They are denied the right of freedom of movement
3. They are barred from certain fields of employment; Whereas this discrimination has increased with the threatened reintroduction of the government order barring citizens of Japanese origin from employment on Crown properties;

Therefore, while approving the tabling of the above order, this meeting of 1,000 students of the University of British Columbia, representative of the whole student body, expresses its hearty disapproval of this un-Christian and anti-democratic order and strongly urges that when the Legislature convenes, the order be rescinded and that these low-Canadian be granted the full rights of citizenship which must include:

1. Enfranchisement and
2. Equal opportunity in all fields of employment.

Radio Ghosts Are Better

B.C.C. London Letter

GHOSTS, which are essentially impalpable, are usually easier to manage on the radio than on the stage; with the advent of television, ghosts which are an amalgamation of the two have to be manufactured. George More O'Ferrall recently produced "Hamlet" for television and told listeners to the B.C.C.'s Radio Newsreel how he solved the problem of expressing the old gentleman's footsteps in terms of radio.

He investigated all the ghostly radio effects available and finally chose two records which, tied together at the right speed, produced wonderful ghostly footsteps. There is nothing surprising about that, perhaps, until it is told that the two records were an echo from the Hamilton

CONFLICTING DATES

On behalf of St. Joseph's Hospital Junior Auxiliary, I wish to thank all the generous people of Victoria who have contributed to the original charity auction which was to have been held on Tuesday, March 9.

Owing to the fact that a larger organization than ourselves has decided to hold a charity auction on that same date, we feel that we cannot do justice to the articles given us by local business firms and private citizens. Thus, after two weeks of advertising, we are forced to postpone this affair, the total proceeds of which were to be in aid of the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital; but, we wish to assure our kind friends that their contributions will be stored until a suitable date in the near future.

It is unfortunate that there is no clearing house for functions of this nature, so that the first organization advertising would hold the date advertised against an identical function at least.

Again, our sincere thanks to all who have been so kind to us, and our best wishes to the Lions Club for a successful auction.

BRITISH INCOME TAX

May I be permitted to draw attention to the case of British subjects resident abroad who are in receipt of income from the United Kingdom with British income tax deducted at the source, as the position is not generally understood?

The tax deducted from all foreign, dominion and colonial dividends is recoverable in full, and with regard to taxed income from British securities, a claim can now be made in respect of income received during the past six years ended April 5, 1947.

Should any of your readers who are interested be in doubt as to the procedure necessary for obtaining the refunds to which they are entitled, if they will write to me at the address given below I shall be pleased to give them free expert advice and any further information they may require.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press News Analyst

THE further we go with this "cold war" between the Bolsheviks and the democracies the more apparent it becomes that we are engaged not merely in an ideological conflict but in downright military operations.

Now I don't mean that I think we are on the verge of another global upheaval. I don't believe a shooting war is imminent, although there are enough warlike elements being tossed about individually to produce the "end of the world" if they should combine.

MANOEUVRING

What's happening, however, is that both sides are deliberately manoeuvring for strategic military positions. The Reds seek advantage in order to further their cold war for the spread of communism. The democracies are trying to block the Red advance, an advance, by the way, in which the Communists are employing strong-arm methods which border dangerously on the military.

Take yesterday's developments, for example. State Secretary Marshall and Defence Secretary Forrestal appeared before the foreign affairs committee to urge further military aid to Turkey and Greece. They declared there is grave danger that neither country can remain free unless they get more assistance.

There are two possible ways in which European Russia might expand its area of domination. One is westward towards the English Channel. The other is southward, perhaps through Iran but also down the Balkan Peninsula through Turkey and into the Middle East, thereby securing the Dardanelles and achieving Russia's old ambition of becoming a Mediterranean power.

MANHANDLING

The westward advance is halted along the so-called Stettin-Adriatic line through central Europe. With the manhandling of Czechoslovakia the Reds have gone as far as they can for the time being in that direction, although they are putting the screws on Finland up north and Italy in the south.

However, the line in the Balkans is in a more precarious position because it is more difficult for the democracies to defend. Turkey is the chief protector of that zone, but Greece also plays an essential role because it is the tip of the Balkan Peninsula which projects down into the Aegean and thus flanks the Dardanelles Strait.

Thus we see that both countries must be provided with the wherewithal to defend themselves. If this can be done, and if that Stettin-Adriatic line across Europe can be held, then the Bolshevik advance will be blocked in Europe.

HIGH-PRICED LUXURY

London (Ont.) Free Press

Peace is a luxury whose price comes higher than we imagine. Peace has to be bought anew every day, and people and nations must make sacrifices for peace hour-by-hour. The price of peace includes the surrender of national sovereignty and the willingness to submit personal and national problems to a court of higher appeal than force of arms.

NOT REASSURING

Montreal Gazette

The idea of making Parliament a full-time job would lead to the creation of still another form of bureaucracy, with a lessened contact with the daily life and experience of the country. Indeed if a full-time Parliament is to be set to watch over the operations of a full-time government, it would mean that one bureaucracy would be set up to watch another. It is not an altogether reassuring prospect.

LABOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Toronto Globe and Mail

Despite denials from some Canadian union officials, there is a great deal of truth in Senator Robert M. Taft's recent statement that American labor leaders are leaving the United States for Canada on account of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. Prime Minister King confirmed the Ohio Senator's remarks when he told the Commons that the Canadian government is exploring means of preventing or restricting such immigrants.

Island Jerseys Set New Records

The Jersey herd of Miss Grace E. Mossey at Sidney, B.C., has been making R.O.P. records for many years and recently three more records have been completed, according to a release of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

The highest one is that produced by Hazelmere Bright Beauty (152181). Beauty went on test at seven years of age and in 365 days produced 10,700 lbs. of milk, 594 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 5.55 per cent.

Hazelmere Favorite (Fox) (166801) in 365 days produced as a junior four-year-old 8,738 lbs. of milk, 554 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 6.34 per cent.

Hazelmere Signal's Morva (152184) has recently completed a five-year-old record in 365 days of 10,050 lbs. of milk, 532 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 5.29 per cent.

Two young Jersey cows have recently completed records on Vancouver Island. Rosemount Journal Norah (161158) has completed a junior two-year-old record in 365 days of 9,017 lbs. of milk, 465 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 5.15 per cent.

Norah was bred by E. W. Burkenshaw of Victoria and is owned and tested by Ernest A. Cullen of Cobble Hill, B.C. She is a grand daughter of the superior sire, Brampton Valiant Journal.

Brookdale Princess Candace (153963), bred and owned by Harold Brooks, Babbacombe Jersey Farm, Royal Oak, B.C., has completed a senior two-year-old record in 365 days of 11,667 lbs. of milk, 509 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 4.36 per cent.

Historic Totem For Nanaimo Park

NANAIMO—An historic totem pole carved by Wilks James and donated to the city years ago, has been given to the parks board who will erect it in the new Bowen Park here.

The pole adorned Bates Square prior to the erection of a restaurant on the site, when it was temporarily crated. Many of the city's Indian residents had made inquiries about the totem pole since its removal from the Square, one commissioner said.

Sidney Waterworks Declines Increases

SIDNEY — Requests for increases in the amount of water supplied at minimum rates were declined on the grounds that cost of pumping would rise too rapidly, at the fourth annual meeting of the Sidney Waterworks District in Sidney School.

The Provincial government district engineer was asked to give more prompt approval to requests for the laying of new water mains. A Gardiner, acting water district engineer, reporting on extensions and renewals of mains, said a good supply of pipe was on hand.

A decision was made to lay more than a mile of four-inch pipe along Third Street and to make an extension on to the San Juan subdivision.

Everett Goddard was re-elected trustee for a three-year term.

Construct Sawmill At North Saanich

SIDNEY — Construction of a sawmill powered by electricity, has been started by H. Bradley and G. D. Norbury on property they recently purchased on the east side of Fifth Street at Roberts Bay.

Both men have owned and operated small sawmills in various sections of North Saanich for several years. In order that logs may be towed to the mill, application has been made for a foreshore lease. A. Gardiner and C. Bradley will haul logs by truck from small stands of timber in the district, and it is expected that between 10 and 20 men will be employed by the new mill.

Sooke House Canvass

SOOKE—A house-to-house canvass of residents at Sooke, Milne's Landing, Sasenos, and North Sooke for the purpose of making appointments for the forthcoming visit of the mobile chest X-ray unit and blood donor clinic, was started here by volunteer workers.

The clinics will be open to the public at 1.30 March 17 at Sooke Community Hall.

Film Council News

The monthly meeting of the Film Council has been postponed until March 11, at 8.

The Victoria Public Library film department again has in its library the film "Leningrad Music Hall."

The film "Music in America" will be available until the end of March.

Thomas Love, Conservative Coalition member for Grand Forks-Greenwood, again at the current session of the B.C. Legislature will act as Deputy Speaker.

The House elected him Wednesday afternoon on motion of Premier Byron Johnson, seconded by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

The Deputy Speaker presides over the House in the absence of the Speaker and while the House is in committee. A considerable portion of the work of the lawmakers is done in committee of the whole, including passage of bills before third reading and consideration of the budget estimates.

Heart Diseases, Cancer, Accidents Cause Most Deaths

The three most formidable enemies of public health—diseases of the heart and arteries, cancer and accidents—continued in that order as the chief causes of death in British Columbia during 1947.

The division of vital statistics reported today that diseases of the heart and arteries claimed 3,827 deaths last year, compared with 3,567 during the previous year. The rate per 100,000 persons increased from 365.3 in 1946, to 376.3 in 1947. Diseases of the heart and arteries are the most common cause of death in B.C., among peoples other than Indians.

Cancer—the second leading cause of death—retreated slightly, claiming 1,462 lives last year, compared with 1,446 during the previous year. The rate slipped from 148.1 per 100,000 population in 1946, to 143.8 in 1947.

The toll of accidents increased by a round 100 during 1947 bringing the total to 805. The accident death rate increased from 72.2 in 1946 to 79.2 in 1947. Motor car accidents were one of the leading causes of the increase.

Intra-cranial lesions of vascular origin, which include strokes and hemorrhages, continued as the fourth cause of death, while tuberculosis and nephritis ranked fifth and sixth respectively. Tuberculosis continued as the leading communicable disease causing death.

In Saanich Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 a car driven by Donald Terrell, 4016 13th Street South, Seattle, was in collision with another driven by Harold E. Slater, Royal Oak. There were no injuries, but damage was over $25.

If drivers in accidents in which people are injured or damage is over $25 fail to produce a card showing coverage by insurance or other financial responsibility, their cars are impounded until the financial end is settled. Cars of non-residents are covered by the new regulation.

A record attendance at the meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society enjoyed an informative talk by A. E. Collins of the British Columbia Forest Service, in which he briefly traced the work of the Forest Service in making surveys and mapping the forest resources of the province. During the meeting $27 was collected with which to purchase vegetable seeds to be sent to England. The society has previously sent flower seeds to the amount of $25. The R. H. S. Bankian medals for 1946 and 1947 were presented to Mrs. A. McKay and Mrs. E. W. Darcus.

COURAGE, HEALING, LIFE ITSELF... TO OTHERS

Worthy indeed of generous giving is the nation-wide work of the Canadian Red Cross. There are many thousands of ill and disabled veterans needing comfort and courage... isolated Canadian communities depending on Red Cross Outpost Hospitals... men, women and children needing life-saving emergency blood transfusions. And these are but a few of the deeds of mercy you do when you give to the Red Cross.

78 Years Completes March Of House Of Birks Across Canada

With the opening of the Victoria branch of the House of Birks, at 706 Yates Street, a long-standing ambition of W. M. Birks, the present chairman of the board of Henry Birks & Sons Ltd., jewelers and silversmiths, to operate stores from coast to coast of Canada, is achieved. The roots of the firm dig deep to Darfield in Yorkshire in 1850 and in 1714 Jonathan Birks was Master of the Ancient Company of Cutlers in Sheffield. In 1832 John Birks, a son of the firm, sailed from Hull to Canada and settled in Montreal where in 1840 Henry Birks was born. In 1857 he entered the firm of Savage and Lyman, watchmakers and jewelers, founded by another York-shireman George Savage of Huddersfield. In 1906 Henry Birks & Sons opened in Vancouver and 42 years later Walter M. Carson, director, and president of the B.C. branch, celebrates his 45th year with the firm when the firm opens the Victoria branch, under the management of C. J. Williams who has been with the firm since 1924 in Vancouver.

BRONZE DOORS

The entrance to the store, through bronze doors opening nine feet from the pavement, is crowned with the Royal Warrant traditional to the House of Birks. The floor runs 100 feet back to the special china display room, which adds another 18 feet, and the enclosing side walls are 34 feet apart. The four supporting columns down the centre are flanked by showcases. These like those which parallel the walls are made of specially selected walnut veneer which, with the brown "battleship" linoleum covering the floor, give an impression of quiet dignity to the glittering contents enclosed within the rectangular armored glass showcase tops. The walls are lined with glass shelves enclosed by sliding glass panels, each partitioned by the same walnut veneered panels which hide the vertical fluorescent lights, running from bottom to top of the shelves. Consequently the lighting effect is one of the most striking first impressions gained from viewing the whole store from the entrance, more especially as the entire perspective is backed by the brilliantly lighted china display room aforementioned.

WALTER M. CARSON

DISPLAY IN GLASS

H. W. Rimes, of the Vancouver office, who has been with the firm since 1913 and who is responsible for the display of merchandise, is especially enamored of the opportunity given by this 18 by 20 space for exhibiting the chinaware, most of which is imported from England. Practically this whole space is glass enclosed and the wares on the shelves are mirrored by the walls. The manner in which the architect, R. G. James, has altered the whole building to a house of Birks is admirable.

The general offices, air-conditioning, storerooms and watch repairing department are in the basement. Each of the store-rooms houses its distinctive stock and as these take up fully half the space under the ground floor, little imagination is needed to be impressed with the quantity and variety of goods embodied in the term "jewelers and silversmiths." For today "the fountain pen has replaced the elaborate silver ink stand; the compact has publicized the mysteries of the boudoir" and the same changes are particularly true of precious stones and watches. Men's wrist watches only came into general use after the war of 1914-18 and today's tiny wrist watches for ladies would have been a miracle to the watchmaker of a century ago. Today the Swiss watch reigns supreme and the House of Birks imports these movements by the tens of thousands and cases them in their own factory.

DIAMONDS HOLD FIELD

For two thousand years diamonds had come from India, for two hundred years Brazil held the field and still does to a certain extent in industrial diamonds. But today practically all display diamonds come from South Africa and gemology has brought their grading to a highly scientific standard. J. Lovell Baker, vice-president, is the gemological expert of the House of Birks. He appraises rubies from Burma, emeralds from Columbia, sapphires from India and diamonds from South Africa before they reach the counters of the stores, there to intrigue and entrance with their fire and dancing lights those who are now more than ever bewitched by the witchcraft imprisoned in their depths. There is always a steady demand for diamonds and consequently these compose the largest stock. The House of Birks prides itself on the quality of its diamonds.

the price of which depends on their size and setting.

JEWEL ROOM

Therefore on the right of the entrance to the store is the jewel room wherein those who, as Mr. Williams, the manager, expresses it, "are always somewhat self-conscious about buying jewels" can hide as well as appraise "their romantic aspirations." Beyond, in the store proper, the glass shelves which line the rest of the walls are replaced by the same paneling of veneer centred with a great shield-like mirror which reflects the light from the showcases devoted to jewels and diffuses it into the store. It is somewhat akin to a dozen vast diamonds set in a rectangular pattern and surrounded with lesser lights from all sorts of these polished stones around which so much of the romantic history of the world is woven.

U.B.C.M. Protests Throne Speech Too Vague For Guidance

The Union of B.C. Municipalities has taken action to register its protest against any plan which would retain two-thirds of a sales tax in provincial coffers, should it be imposed as requested by the U.B.C.M.

A letter was dispatched to Premier Byron Johnson over the signature of R. R. F. Sewell, secretary, following long-distance telephone conferences between Mayor Percy George, first vice-president, and Mayor W. M. Mott of New Westminster, president of the U.B.C.M.

In the letter Mr. Sewell said that government policy as set forth in the Throne Speech is too vague to be of any guidance to the municipalities.

He continued: "We understand that there has been a suggestion that a sales tax be levied and that two-thirds of the sum realized be taken into consolidated revenue and the remaining one-third distributed to the municipalities. It is considered that this will not be satisfactory to the municipalities."

Mr. Sewell emphasized that municipalities are an important part of government and should be fully consulted and taken into confidence.

He pointed out that municipal budgets are now in preparation and strongly urged that definite steps be taken to solve the financial problems of the municipalities.

He asked that a four-man delegation from the U.B.C.M. be allowed to appear before the cabinet and again go into the question of provincial-municipal relations. In the delegation would be Mayor Mott, Mayor George, Mr. Sewell and Mayor F. W. Scott, the second vice-president.

Eastern Canada Visitors In City

Mrs. G. E. Farrar, Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Mr. J. A. Robinson and Mr. G. E. Farrar all live in Hamilton, Ont. At present they are spending several weeks in Victoria, en route home from a holiday trip to Bermuda, and are guests at Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Banquet Honors Grand Chief

Forty members of Pythian Sisters, Island Temple, No. 8, were present at a banquet in the Melody Lane Mirror Room given in honor of Grand Chief Drusilla Anders, who was making an official visit to the temple.

Other guests included visiting members of Silverleaf Temple, No. 1, Nanaimo.

At a regular meeting held in

K. of P. Hall, following the banquet, grand honors were given to Sister Anders and P.G.M. Cosman, following which the grand chief addressed the meeting on work of the order. At conclusion of the address, M.E.C. Sister N. Ryan presented Sister Anders with a corsage bouquet and a gift from the temple.

Refreshments were served and a social hour held following the meeting, when brother knights joined the gathering.

The bride is the former Joan Evelyn Buckingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Buckingham, Dunsterville Road, Colquitz.

Meeting Hears Miss M. Watts Speak Of Chinese Youth

"The Christian Church has opened a new life to girls in China," said Miss M. Watts, recently principal of Anglican Women's Training College in Toronto, and previously with the Anglican Missionary Service in the province of Honan, China, in her address at a meeting of the Diocesan Board of the Church of England W.A. yesterday afternoon.

During her talk she gave interesting examples of the work Chinese women are doing in the Women's Missionary Service League, equivalent to the Church of England W.A. in Canada.

"Girls in China used to be confined strictly to home life," she explained, "and never had as much opportunity as boys. But since the mission schools have been opened, they have been given the chance to do their part."

As an example, Miss Watts told of the daughter of a high-class official family, who had never gone to school until at the age of 25 she attended an English school with younger boys and girls, then went to the missionary training school.

"During a seige in the civil war, when her city was surrounded and no supplies allowed in, she worked, helping the people in every way she could," Miss Watts said.

"After the seige, when disease was everywhere in the city, she was taken ill and died, and I would call her a martyr to Christianity."

NEED HELP
"The Christian women of China all want to help," emphasized Miss Watts, and gave another illustration of an incident at the harvest festival, when everyone brought something to the church.

"A little old woman from the country, with tiny, bony feet, came several miles over rough ground, carrying a seven-pound pumpkin."

"These are difficult days, though," Miss Watts explained, "and we have had to leave, because it would make it all the more difficult for our Chinese friends if we stayed."

In closing she quoted a Chinese proverb, saying, "Don't be afraid of going slowly, but of standing still. We are making progress, and we will return to continue our work."

Mrs. M. W. Mackenzie, president, Wednesday afternoon in her address, gave as the watchword "Go Forward," and closed by saying, "We may have done well in the past, but we must not stand still. We must go forward and do even better, with more members, more money, more prayer and more study."

Miss B. P. Foster thanked Mrs. Mackenzie and presided her with a corsage bouquet.

A resume of the treasurer's report of Mrs. S. G. Wilson showed that total receipts of the W.A. of the Church of England Diocese, amounted to $15,542.42 during 1947.

Disbursements for missionary work overseas and in Canada were $6,892.41; for work in the Diocese, $7,072.93; and for bursaries to two theological students, $250.

Mrs. A. Roach, in her report as Dorcas secretary, stated that

Chapter Works On Spring Program

Final plans for the Easter Egg Hunt to be held March 27 in the grounds of the Children's Garden Library, loaned by Mrs. W. W. McGill for the occasion, were reported by Mrs. D. Elford, convener, at a meeting of the Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, I.O. D.E.

Tentative plans were also announced by convener, Mrs. C. J. Watters for the tea and fashion show at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel on April 10. Arrangements were made to send monthly food parcels to Britain. Chapter conveners were named as follows: Laura Tebo, post war; Allison Chow, child and family welfare; Dorothy Cooke, immigration and colonization; Connie Chow, ex-service personnel; Ada Heald, Empire study; Eleanor Williams, films; Alice McDougall, endowment fund; Elsie Lothian, work in India; Hilda Margetts, blind work; Beth Littlehale, membership; and Frances Elford, press.

Have Eye To Future

ST. ALBANS, Hertfordshire, England (CP) — Hertfordshire proposes to appoint 82 more teachers this year — £36,000 (£146,000) in salaries—because the birth-rate rise will increase school attendance by 8,000 in five years.

Committee Meets—The regular meeting of the committee of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. D. Whittier, president, in the chair, and eight members present. It was reported that residents were guests of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society last Sunday at the dress rehearsal of the "Mikado" at the Royal Theatre. Mrs. E. Mallek was named convener in charge of decorations for the April tea. Committee for the month is Mrs. J. Tully, convener; Mrs. E. Cridge and Mrs. G. A. Lister.

Home Economics Ass'n. Sponsors Cooking School

Mrs. J. D. Forbes-King, Miss Antisell Leak and Miss Muriel Johnson, left to right, go over final plans for the Economy Cooking School to be held in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company next Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, from 2 until 4. Miss Johnson is home economics teacher at Victoria High School; Miss Leak a member of the B.C. Electric home service department; Mrs. Forbes-King will be a co-worker at the cooking school.

Mrs. L. E. Gower, Mrs. Ed Mallek and Mrs. George Gray, homemaker members of the association, set the seal of approval on a tray of dainty tea biscuits and discuss variations of these and of yeast buns, to be shown during the cooking school sessions. The proper use and a variety of recipes for the pressure cooker will also be shown.

Mrs. Irene McGuire, convener of the committee to further the teaching of home economics in Crete, Greece; Mrs. A. B. Young, president of the Home Economics Association, and Miss Beth Ramsay, convener of the scholarship fund, discuss plans for the cooking school. Entire proceeds will be used for projects of the Home Economics Association, including the scholarship fund and the teaching of home economics in Greece.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating—Young Wendy Martin, Nancy Gray and Barry Young, left to right, take keen delight in sampling some of the goodies Mrs. R. S. Martin and Mrs. A. B. Young, members of the Home Economics Association, have planned for healthful, happy eating for children and grown-ups alike, recipes of which will be made in the coming Economy Cooking School.

their safe arrival. Next work of Miss K. Hall, 2625 Lansdowne meeting will be held at the home Road, on Tuesday.

Press Oak Bay To Join Partnership In New Foster Home

Further representation to Oak Bay Council to come into partnership in the Juvenile Foster Home was made Wednesday evening by a delegation from the home's intermunicipal committee, headed by Mrs. Margaret D. Christie.

Mrs. Christie asserted the home had been the means of saving "quite a few boys" so far and other delegates told of instances when girls, including one from Oak Bay, had either been rescued from an immoral life or aided before they had reached that state.

Miss Rae Kirkendale told the council that if it would come into partnership in the home with the Rest of Greater Victoria, it would cost Oak Bay municipality $23.62 a month, plus meals. If the municipality stayed out, the charge for the keep of each child was $9.48 a day.

Instances were given where some of the juveniles going to the home had been there several weeks in the case of the Oak Bay girl, three weeks.

Under the partnership basis, the municipalities would pay on the following basis: Victoria, 57 per cent; Saanich, 20 per cent; Oak Bay, 10 per cent; Esquimalt,

7 per cent, and the Provincial government, 6 per cent.

While the Provincial government could not share in this way, Miss Kirkendale said, it had agreed to pay per capita cost for any child coming before the four courts who has residence in unorganized territory. This was in spite of the fact that the Juvenile Courts Act places the responsibility on the municipal councils, she added.

Oak Bay Employees Send Delegation To Seek Higher Wages

Wage increases of $25 a month for employees on a monthly scale and 15 cents an hour for those on an hourly scale was sought by a delegation from Oak Bay Municipal Employees' Association which met the municipal council Wednesday evening.

R. M. Smith, heading the delegation presented a brief to the council in which it was argued that B.C. held a higher standard of living than other provinces and that the Dominion-wide cost-of-living index did not give a true picture of problems here.

It was felt that the cost of maintaining a family in Oak Bay was comparable to that in Vancouver where recent independent surveys using the same procedure and list of commodities as used by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showed that the actual cost of living in Vancouver, 1939-1947, had risen 60.7 per cent. Dealing first with the Dominion index, the brief stated that at Jan. 1, 1947, an average increase of $12.85 granted the outside staff fell short of the actual cost of living index by $16.45 despite the $19 cost of living bonus paid by the municipality, and that in the case of the inside staff an increase of $12.50 still left them short of the index by $16.70.

Using the Vancouver index, the outside staff fell short by $28.85 and the inside staff by $29.10, the brief said.

The comparison did not include those employees of the outside staff, who were on an hourly pay and did not receive an increase in 1947 and were being paid from eight to 13 cents an hour less than for the same type of work in the surrounding municipalities, the brief added.

In answer to a remark by Councillor J. V. Johnson that there were many people in Oak Bay who were not receiving the same amount of money as the municipal employees, and they would be penalized by increased wages to the municipal staff, Mr. Smith said that they were high bracket and low bracket incomes in other municipalities taxpayers had faced the same situation.

Protests Criticism Against Oak Bay

Reeve R. A. B. Wootton at an Oak Bay Council meeting Wednesday evening took exception to outside criticism of the council's attitude regarding veterans.

At the next meeting, he said, he would have ready a statement on the council's views on the municipality's conduct toward veterans. He said the council felt deep appreciation of services rendered by servicemen in the recent and other wars.

Oak Bay Councillor Seeks Split From School District

Preliminary steps to possible separation of Oak Bay from the Greater Victoria School District were contained in a motion put before Oak Bay Council by Councillor C. C. Annett Wednesday evening and passed.

Councillor Annett moved that the municipal solicitor be asked what steps should be taken to petition the Provincial government for the separation if such action should be decided upon.

Earlier in the meeting, dissatisfaction with Oak Bay's participation in the school district was seen in the council's passage of the finance committee's recommendations that the school budget be sent back to the school board asking an "explanation and justification" for an increased amount of $33,675 in school costs and that the explanation indicate precisely how and in what manner this sum was to be expended in Oak Bay.

The council also passed the recommendation that the school trustees be asked to demand that the Provincial government complete implementation of the Cameron Report proposals that 55 per cent of the school costs be borne by the Provincial government, if the records of the trustees showed that the implementation had not been effected.

Gasoline Shortage Hits Tourist Trade, Legislature Told

A warning that British Columbia's current shortage of gasoline was turning away tourists was given in the B.C. Legislature Wednesday afternoon by Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, Coalition member for Vancouver-Point Grey, who suggested that any further increase in the price of gasoline be made for a limited period only, so that oil companies would have time to cut their marketing costs and install additional refining facilities.

"And I would like to suggest an endeavor be made to get the liquid fuel business into a more competitive position," said Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson, who represents the Progressive Conservative wing of the administration. He was seconding the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

"If we do not make a real effort to get and hold the tourist business it will be lost to us forever as others are not idle," he warned. He said that British Columbia must be made more attractive to tourists, by improving the quality of tourist cabins, hotels and restaurants, developing fishing and hunting areas, and by continuing to extend roads into the parks of the province.

SCORES COMMUNISM

Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson covered many of the problems now facing the provincial government in his address and lashed out against Communism, saying these forces were "again out in the open spreading their venomous idealism in far too many channels of our social and industrial life."

He said that the Canadian Legion had been quick to see the subtle tenets of Communism working in its direction and that if common sense and loyal attention to public affairs fails elsewhere he looked to the Legion and the army, navy and air force veterans' organization as the power to set the people straight.

The member noted that on the one side leaders of certain well-paid groups were clamoring for higher wages and shorter hours and longer holidays, while on the other the Housewives League "or others of that Communist ilk were screaming for lower living costs and prices."

"The joker is of course that those upon the stage whose views appear to be so utterly opposed are comrades, not interested in welfare but in power for themselves and servitude for others," he said.

He suggested that perhaps the Canadian leaders were partially responsible since Canada lacked national spirit, had no single national language and no national flag, and thus residents of Canada had looked elsewhere for leadership.

While not mentioning Russia by name, Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson said he did not think that any fair-minded person had any doubt as to why peace was a long way off, and urged members to recall 1942 and 1943 when "we shared our scarce and precious war materials with a country hard-pressed and almost beaten—a country which now shouts defiance at those who gave her the very shirts off their backs, a country which now defeats almost universal effort to bring the world back into a fit condition in which to live."

AGAINST MILK BOOST

The speaker urged the government to explore every possible measure to prevent the increase in the price of milk, and suggested that the government remove its ban on credit sales of milk since they "had not proved too successful."

He said that the mines of the province must have more assistance and suggested that royalties on timber should be based on a sliding scale geared to retail lumber prices.

"Despite the highest wages in the land, the lumber and pulp industry is producing profit from our forests at a rate which well may indicate that the province has underestimated the value of its forest resources," he said.

"The government should examine this matter carefully with a view to adjusting our royalties before too many long-term management licenses are granted."

Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson also suggested that fish prices on the local market were too high and British Columbians, vociferous in their complaints of the high cost of meat, should eat more fish.

A national contributory pension plan, he suggested, was imperative and inevitable, but if not undertaken quickly the province should proceed with some plan to relieve the situation.

U.B.C. Ruggers Give Aussies Close Battle

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Australian Wallabies Wednesday gave their second lesson here on how English rugby should be played, but found that U.B.C. Thunderbirds turned on their teacher a time or two before going down to a 20 to 6 defeat before 4,000 fans.

The Aussie scores were on a goal, three tries and two penalty goals against a pair of penalty goals kicked by U.B.C.'s Hilary Wotherspoon.

The game, Wallabies' final appearance here, was tighter than Saturday's 36 to 3 drubbing of Vancouver Lions as Thunderbirds marked the speedy Aussie three-quarter line closely.

The difference between the two teams lay mainly in the heavier Wallaby scrum—it averaged 209 pounds against U.B.C.'s average of 187—and the snapper passing and broken field running of the winners' backs.

U.B.C. carried the play practically as much as the touring fifteen and managed to hold them to a scanty 9 to 6 advantage in the first half.

Wingman Arthur Tonkin gave Wallabies an early lead when he clinaxed a cross-field three-quarter run by side-stepping fullback Bill Dunbar and racing over near the flag. He missed his own conversion to leave the score 3 to 0.

Tomkin made no mistake on a 25-yard penalty kick for a U.B.C. offside at the 12-minute mark to boost his team's lead to 6 to 0. Wotherspoon duplicated this effort minutes later making it 6 to 3 with a 35-yard effort awarded when an Aussie played the ball off the ground.

The Tonkin-Wotherspoon kicking duel continued during the half, the former splitting the uprights after 26 minutes, and the latter countering four minutes later, leaving the half time score 9 to 6.

Wallabies rolled during the first half, with Philip Hardcastle setting up scrum-mate John Fuller for a try, then forward Bob McMaster sprinted 20 yards before passing to skipper Trevor Allan who outran Varsity backs to score standing up. Tonkin's one successful convert made it 17 to 6.

Fuller got his second try as the final whistle sounded. Tonkin's attempted convert was wide.

Wallabies head for Victoria Friday to play the Crimson Tide Saturday, then proceed south for games with the University of California and Stanford University.

Three severe trouncings marked play in yesterday's inter-high soccer league matches, Oak Bay Greens bolstered their first place position by downing Mount View Golds, 6 to 0. Mount Douglas High whitewashed Vic High's House One entry by an identical score, and Oak Bay Whites whipped Mount View Greens, 6 to 1. In other games, House Two defeated House Three of V.H.S., 3 to 0, and House Four and Esquimalt played to a 1 to 1 stalemate.

The league-leading Greens held full sway in their game with Mount View Golds, and held a 2 to 0 lead at the breather on tallies by Ross Noel and Glen Smith. Smith found the net on crosses from Robert Kay and Noel early in the second half to complete the hat trick, and Kay and Don Wilson scored the others. Clive Watson and Art Manson were the pick of Mount View.

Oak Bay Whites made the day complete. In their rout of the Mount View squads in another one-sided affair, Hughie Johnston put Bays one up early in the contest, but Doug Betts tied it up for Saanichtles just before the interval.

House Four held a slight edge in their game against Esquimalt, but lacked the polish around the goal to give them a decision. Terry Burns put Esquimalt ahead early in the fray, but George Rapanos tied the score shortly before the interval.

ERICKSON STARS
Centre-forward Roy Erickson had a field day in the House Two-House Three tussle, scoring all three goals for the former. Erickson opened the scoring at the two-minute mark, and duplicated at the same time in the second half. His final tally came late in the contest.

B.C. Rink Suffers First Defeat In Curling Tourney

CALGARY (CP) — The Manitoba rink, skipped by the youthful George Sangster of the Winnipeg Granite Club, today moved into final day of the Canadian curling championship carrying the only undefeated record into the concluding rounds. The event winds up with three draws—morning, afternoon and evening.

British Columbia, with only one defeat in the six rounds so far, are pinning their hopes on either Ontario, Northern Ontario or New Brunswick to spoil Manitoba's record. However, the Sangster rink has indicated by past performances that it is capable of duplicating the record of Winnipeg's Jimmy Welsh, 1947

Canadian titleholder, of winning nine straight games.

While pulling for a Manitoba rink, Theo d'Amour and his Trail quartette must win its matches against Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec if it hopes to keep its chances alive.

The third-place northern Ontario rink, with four wins and two losses, needs victories in their three matches to stay in the running. They are scheduled to meet Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The seven other provinces, none holding better than a three and three record, are practically out of the running.

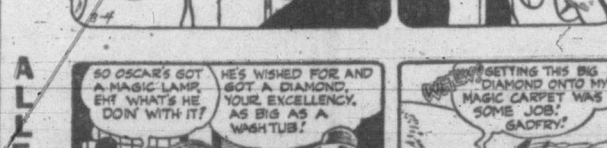

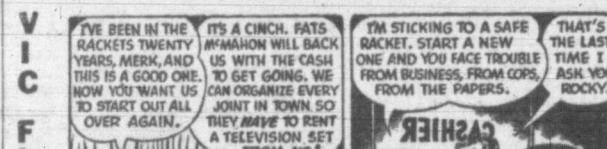

British Columbia's lone defeat came on the sixth draw last night when Sangster scored a two-ender on the 12th to eke out a 9 to 8 decision in a thrilling battle in which the lead changed hands six times and was tied twice.

Birks' President Expresses Faith In Victoria's Future

Henry G. Birks, president of Henry Birks and Sons Ltd., stood in his new "house" this morning and expressed great faith in Victoria's future.

"We don't just believe in saying it, we believe in doing something about it," he said. Mr. Birks has not only faith in Canada, but faith in the whole of Canada. . . . The Birks business is one of the few which has enjoyed ownership under four generations of Canadians.

One thing the president likes particularly about the way of living here is that Canada is a country that gives the average man more than any other country and though conditions are admittedly not perfect, the Canadians are living under a method which will allow them to clean it up and overcome the imperfections peacefully.

Turning to Birks' business methods, the firm's president stressed the fact that the company manufactured on behalf of the stores and not the other way around where stores are built to take care of what is manufactured. This leaves a "house" manager free to order, within financial reason, for the tastes of the city in which the "house" is situated.

Mr. Birks revealed he and his father have long been anxious to join Victoria's business circles, but had felt it foolish to make the move until they obtained a suitable home.

Friday, Victorians, will have their first chance of having a look at the home Birks' feel is suitable. But there will be a novel angle to it. The doors will be open and people can go in and look at the glittering array of Birks' products on the shelves . . . but they can't buy.

They can, however, start buying Saturday, and by then, Mr. Birks hopes they will have become accustomed to the idea that they can "wander" in, wander around and wander out again without feeling they have to buy something.

This feeling, the president said, had been developed across the rest of Canada, but he was rather curious to see how it would work in Victoria. The "no purchase if you don't feel like it" idea is the American style, while in the United Kingdom, the average Briton goes into a store only when he wants to buy something.

Mr. Birks, who is a grandson of the founder, was pleased to recount that when his grandfather died 28 years ago, there were three sons and five grandsons in the business with him.

Today, 15 per cent of Birks' staffs across Canada have been with the company 25 years or more. Saturday evening he is giving a dinner for the Victoria members at the Empress Hotel with Birks' visitors from Calgary, Saskatoon, Toronto and Montreal also in attendance.

Multnomah Choir To Sing In Victoria

On March 15, the 40-voice A Cappella choir of the Multnomah School of the Bible will give a program of sacred music at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

This group of young people is under the direction of Lauren B. Sykes who, as director of music at the Multnomah School of the Bible during the last nine years, has built the choir into one of the outstanding school musical organizations of the northwest. Mr. Sykes has been organist-choirmaster in several of Portland's largest metropolitan churches and carried his musical activities into two other colleges beside Multnomah. He holds the Associateship in the American Guild of Organists, and has been organist for the Portland Symphony Choir for the past several seasons, accompanying well-known major oratorio works.

This concert is sponsored jointly by the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Choir and the Victoria Masonic Choir.

Coal Shortage To Be Eased In Week

Relief of the present coal shortage in Victoria by the end of next week was seen by dealers here today as the first shipment of Alberta lump coal began to arrive in the city.

These early shipments will probably go to fill up the standing orders, it was pointed out, but because of the moderating weather and consequent decrease in demand by consumers, the next week is expected to see coal conditions in a reasonably good state.

One catch, though, is the price. The Alberta coal will cost Victoria consumers approximately 2 1/2 per cent more than they were paying previously.

To Become Coffee Stand At Cowichan

Seen at the start of its last journey is the old Cowichan streetcar which has been purchased by S. Tighe, 122 Burnside Road. On a large truck trailer the car was taken up to Cowichan earlier this week, where work started on its conversion into a coffee and sandwich stand. A number of the abandoned street railway coaches have been sold by the B.C.E.R. for a variety of uses, particularly in lumber camps. Those not sold will be disposed of as scrap.

Ash Majority Grows In Official Count

Arthur J. R. Ash, Coalition government candidate who is expected to take his seat in the B.C. Legislature March 15 to represent Saanich, has piled up at the official count of votes an even more handsome majority than indicated at the preliminary count.

Robert Brydson, returning officer, who Wednesday completed the official count, reported today that Mr. Ash had polled 5,899 votes, 404 more than was recorded at the first count held Feb. 23, the day of the election.

The official count gave Colin Cameron, C.C.F. candidate, 4,248 votes, almost 200 more than during the first count, and Maj. A. H. Jukes, Social Credit Independent, 671, an increase of 145. Thomas Nixon, Independent Farm Labor candidate, polled 209, an increase of 36 votes. W. R. Smith, of Vancouver, Democrat, won eight more votes, bringing his total to 44.

Ten clear days must elapse before the election writ is filed and Mr. Ash can take his seat in the House. He has been following the proceedings to date from the sidelines.

Impound First Automobile In City

First car to be impounded in Victoria under the new government insurance regulations is owned by Charles E. Lambier, 1002 Gosper Avenue. Impounding resulted when it was determined damage was over $25 and the car owner did not have the insurance card required under Part II of Bill 97 passed at the 1947 session of the B.C. Legislature.

According to city police Lambier was traveling north on Wharf Street and was in collision with a car going in the same direction and halting at the stop sign at Johnson Street in charge of John A. Lindsay, 823 Colville Road. The Lindsay car after this collision with another auto owned by R. W. Green, 1068 Colville, which was also stopped at the stop sign.

Acting chief of police John Blackstock has ordered the Chinese to clear the property which is to be put in shape as an impounding lot. This is on the south side of Fisgard Street between the police station and Government Street.

Error In Last Hand Decides Bridge Tournament Champions

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Law, 1145 Faithful Street, were crowned bridge champions Wednesday night after defeating George Petch and James Morland in the final round of the Greater Victoria bridge tournament of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The victory for the husband and wife combination was not an easy one, however. The couple entered the last hand of play 620 points down to their opponents. Mr. Morland opened the round with a bid of one club. Mrs. Law passed and Mr. Petch changed the suit with a one spade call. Mr. Law bid two diamonds and Mr. Morland jumped to four hearts. Mrs. Law doubled.

The game was won for the Laws by an error on the part of Mr. Morland. In his eagerness to trump the second round of spades, he mistakenly drew the wrong card from his hand, and three away a club for what he had intended to be a heart.

The Petch-Morland duo were down 3 tricks at the end of the hand, giving Mr. and Mrs. Law 800 points and victory by a 180-point margin. Had it not been for the unfortunate error, the two-man team would have only been two tricks down and would have finished the game with a slight point margin over their opponents.

R. L. Challoner, 2491 Central Avenue, and E. Moilliet, 989 Admirals Road, were awarded first prize in the consolation round of the tournament, following a win over Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Verley, 2764 Dufferin Street.

The Challoner-Moilliet team was also awarded a prize for having the highest score of any one game during the entire six-week tournament. Their winning score was 10,870, piled up in their final game.

The finals were played in the Dominion Hotel before many interested spectators.

Wisner Says Probe Shows Oakalla Charges Unjustified

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner, following an investigation of charges of filthy conditions and unfair paddling of prisoners in Oakalla prison farm, said today he was satisfied there was no justification for these charges.

The charges were made in a letter by a prisoner to C.C.F. Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch. Smuggled out of the jail, the letter was turned over to Mr. Wisner by Mr. Winch.

The investigation was conducted under the Police and Prisons Regulation Act by Provincial Police authorities and the report of the investigators was received by Mr. Wisner today. During the investigation evidence was taken from a number of prisoners and guards concerned in a flare-up when 50 windows were broken.

"Except for the fact that Oakalla is overcrowded, the report shows absolutely no justification for the charges," said Mr. Wisner.

"The prison is properly conducted—in fact I would say it is the best administration of its kind in Canada. No misconduct by any of the guards was shown nor was there any justifiable complaint about the food or living conditions."

Mr. Wisner said his department is now seeking extra accommodation so that the overcrowded conditions at Oakalla can be relieved.

Patients from the Veterans' Hospital were guests Wednesday of the Young People's Varieties of Luxton, a group of young folk who are actively assisted by Constable Oleinik, R.C.M.P.

Dean S. H. Elliott Injured In Winnipeg

Word have been received in Victoria that Dean Spencer H. Elliott, rector of Christ Church Cathedral here, slipped on an icy street and broke his leg while visiting in Winnipeg.

Dean Elliott was on his way to Holy Trinity Church to conduct the noon-day Lenten service when the mishap occurred. He is at present in hospital where his condition is reported as good. It is expected he will remain in Winnipeg for three weeks and then return to Victoria.

First Three Days Nets $6,056 To Red Cross Drive

Auditors at the Red Cross campaign in Prince Robert House reported this morning $6,056 had been subscribed by Greater Victoria residents during the first three days of the campaign. Objective of this area for the entire campaign is $40,000.

The campaign headquarters received several telephone calls this morning reporting the Red Cross flag at the Causeway was at half-mast. One person phoned to ask if a Red Cross worker had died.

"No doubt, some wag with a perverted sense of humor is responsible for the lowering of the flag," Donald H. Seymour, public relations officer for the Red Cross in Victoria, commented later.

"The only thing the Red Cross is mourning for at the moment is the casualties amongst canvassers and workers from the 'flu epidemic. Subscribers can materially combat this situation, however, by bringing or mailing their subscriptions into the headquarters here at Prince Robert House," he noted.

Building permits have been issued to H. F. Hull to build a 4-room house at 1600 Brook Street, $5,400; to P. M. Bath to build a 4-room house at 500 Arnold Street, $6,500; to V. M. Clarke to make alterations and build two garages at 1045 Joan Crescent, $2,500; to R. A. Green Lumber Co. Ltd. to build a lumber storage shed at the south-west corner of Topex Avenue and Quesset Street, $2,800, and to A. Craddock to build a 4-room house at 1662 Earl Street, $5,000.

The City Council today received a letter from Saanich, sent on personal instruction of Reeve E. C. Warren, to query whether it is true the Memorial Airport Association has started work on the Gordon Head Airport site, and for notification as to what use the property will be put. The letter emphasized that its use for a landing field is at present prohibited by the zoning regulations.

Promote West Coast Gunnery Officer

Promotion to lieutenant-commander of Lieut. E. P. Shaw, officer in charge of the gunnery training centre and one of the commanding officers Pacific Coast as gunnery officer, is announced by Naval Service Headquarters in Ottawa.

Lt.-Cmdr. Shaw is married and lives at 141 Gorge Road East. He was born July 17, 1915, in Brackley, P.E.I. Formerly a bank clerk, he joined the R.C.N.V.R. in March, 1940, and was appointed for courses and service with the Royal Navy. He returned to Canada in June, 1942, and held appointments with the R.C.N. until December, 1943.

He was then loaned to the Royal Navy, finally returning to Canada in February, 1945, and in April of the same year, was transferred to the R.C.N. with the rank of lieutenant.

After service in H.M.C.S. Niobe and attachment to H.M.C.S. Queen Charlotte, he was appointed as flotilla gunnery officer in H.M.C.S. Crescent. In March, 1946, he was transferred to Naval Service Headquarters for duty with the director of weapons and tactics. In 1946, he served in H.M.C.S. Uganda, followed with service in H.M.C.S. Rockliffe and was finally appointed to his present post at H.M.C.S. Naden.

Trying To Head Off Packinghouse Strike Called For March 16

CHICAGO (AP).—The United States conciliation service today began efforts to head off a country-wide meat-packing strike set for March 16.

Conciliator Thomas G. Cleland summoned officials of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.) and Swift and Company to a meeting in his office. Similar meetings are planned with Armour and Company next Wednesday, Wilson and Company Thursday, and with the Cudahy Packing Company Friday of next week.

The union set its strike date Wednesday against these firms as well as John Morrell and Sons, Hy-Grade Food Products, and other companies. The union is seeking to enforce demands of a 29-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Quebec Provincial Police Guard Polish Art Treasures

QUEBEC (CP).—Proceedings in Quebec's Legislature in the midst of a session, generally believed to be a prelude to general elections, were overwhelmed today by the issue surrounding transfer of custody to the provincial government of Polish treasure brought to Canada during the war for safekeeping.

The afternoon newspaper L'Action Catholique, quoted Premier Duplessis as saying in a statement that the Polish valuables had been removed from a 300-year-old religious community to provincial care.

The statement, which the newspaper said had been given exclusively to it by the Premier, declared the provincial government had intervened to "prevent the repetition of incidents regrettable and profoundly revolting for the population of our province."

L'Action Catholique quoted the Premier as saying the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who in a later statement of their own on Wednesday denied the charge, had "violated" the cloister of Quebec's Hotel Dieu, where part of the treasures were kept.

Early today Sister St. Henri, superior of the Hotel Dieu, issued a statement through a Quebec lawyer explaining the position of the institution.

In the meantime, provincial police stood 24-hour guard over the treasures stored in steel vaults at the provincial museum located on the historic Plains of Abraham.

AGREED TO KEEP THEM

The statement by Sister St. Henri said that "several months ago" the Hotel Dieu sisters had undertaken to keep parcels containing what were described as "precious objects."

The parcels had been received from a "very distinguished man of Polish nationality," and the "best possible care had been taken to keep them sheltered from all risk."

Sister St. Henri declared that last month "another citizen of the same nationality, as charge d'affaires of the republic of Poland," had laid claim to the treasure parcels.

B.C. Police School For New Recruits

Commissioner John Shirras, chief of the B.C. Provincial Police force, announced today that a B.C. police elementary school will be started at the conclusion of the present advanced training course.

He reported the new school will be for green officers and will be run continuously throughout the year. "These courses are intended for newer recruits to lay the basis for more advanced training in all phases of a police officers' duties," he said.

Duration of the courses will be 30 days and at the completion of one another group will go into the student category.

The commissioner said that it was likely that there would be some openings for the forces of Greater Victoria to have representatives at the month-long schools. Several members of the police departments in this area are attending the five-week advanced course which will be concluded shortly. They are writing examinations now.

City Briefs

Nothing was found missing from Bob Pettie's sporting goods store, 646 Johnson Street, broken into during the night, city police report.

Monthly meeting of the Capital City Racing Pigeon Club will be held tonight at 7:30 at 2636 Scott Street. The club's aim is to encourage juniors in bird racing.

A vacancy on the executive committee of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will be filled at a meeting to be held in the City Hall at 8 tonight.

Owners of property on the north side of Yates Street, east of Cook Street have requested that the zoning be changed from apartment to commercial category.

A new sodium vapor lamp has been installed at the west end of Johnson Street Bridge, Kenneth Reid, street lighting superintendent, reported. One will also be installed at the east end in the near future.

T. B. Williams, B.C. Government controller of oil and natural gas, will present a talk and films on "Oil Is Where You Find It" on Saturday morning in the Provincial Museum at 9:30 and again at 11. Free tickets have been distributed through the schools. Schoolchildren may come without tickets but may not be assured of a seat.

Wholesalers Here Welcome Lifting Of Ban On Carrots

An announcement made this morning by the Prices Board in Ottawa that the import ban on carrots would be lifted March 15 to meet a growing shortage of carrots in the Dominion was received as welcome news by Victoria wholesalers who have only about two days' supply of carrots on hand.

A simultaneous announcement, however, imposing a 10-cent a pound ceiling on both domestic and imported carrots effective tomorrow was not received quite so well. The wholesalers' maximum selling price for carrots in this city will be 7 cents a pound. "It's a pretty low ceiling," one wholesaler commented. "I doubt whether it will pay us to bring the things in. Prices are high in the U.S. at the moment."

Victoria's largest wholesale house, however, put through an order to California immediately they received word of the Prices Board's action. They have arranged for the first shipment to arrive here March 15, the day the ban will be lifted.

"We have only enough carrots on hand to last another two or three days," an official of the firm said. "There will be no carrots in this city next week."

Carrots will be selling for less tomorrow, however, because of the new ceiling. Wholesale prices today are 8 and 9 cents a pound. Tomorrow the prices will have to be cut to conform with the 7-cent wholesale ceiling.

Retailers who buy from wholesalers will be allowed a maximum mark-up (margin of profit) of 10 per cent on the price they pay under the new regulations. Retailers who import directly will be allowed a mark-up of 35 per cent.

The announcement follows the policy announced by Finance Minister Abbott last November that "supplies of basic foodstuffs will be augmented if shortages occur." The statement emphasized all sellers will be required to sell carrots by weight and without tops.

Increased Pensions For War Amputees Backed By Council

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council went to the War Amputations of Canada one better Wednesday evening in seeking an increased compensation for 100 per cent war-disabled veterans.

War Amputations of Canada wrote to ask for the council's support in seeking a $100 minimum in the basic rate for the totally disabled, instead of the $87 minimum proposed by the Dominion. The council answered by deciding to write to the government itself asking $150 as the minimum, claiming that amount was the minimum amount which would provide existence today.

The council was informed of suggestions by the carpenters' union protesting the jailing of trade union leaders in Quebec and the imposition of a sales tax in B.C., in principle.

The carpenters' union "deplored the action of the city in permitting an injunction against the establishment of an aged peoples' home on Esquimalt Road." The council will protest handing of the matter by the city on the grounds that the building department granted a permit to alter the domicile and that a considerable amount of money had already been expended on the project.

The council endorsed a resolution from the Halifax Trades and Labor Council protesting the continued rises in the cost of food. Also endorsed was a letter from the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers protesting delay in payments of unemployment claims, where workers receive vacation pay at the time of lay-offs.

Minister At Opening Of Drama Festival

The Greater Victoria Schools Drama Festival will be officially launched by Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, at Oak Bay High School on Monday night at 8. During the afternoon and evening performances 200 city school children will present their plays for adjudication.

Officiating for the school board are the following speakers: Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, at Esquimalt Elementary, Tuesday at 8; A. W. Trevett, at Sir James Douglas School, Wednesday, 2:30; Miss Isla Tuck, at Victoria High School, Wednesday, 8; W. P. Jeune, Cloverdale School, Thursday, 2:30; B. Caley, at Mount View High, Thursday, 8; J. A. de Boucier at Oaklands, Friday, 2:30; R. H. Green at Oak Bay High, Friday, 8.

F. T. Fairley, deputy minister, will officiate at the honor performance Saturday night.

Documents Of War Of 1914-19 Given To Public Archives

OTTAWA (CP)—The careers of Canadian soldiers and the four years of war they fought—embedded in some 600,000 Canadian government documents—are open to the public.

The soldiers are of the First World War and the documents tell in detail of hardship and glory as they fought their 1914-18 victory from the training grounds in Canada to the battlefields of France.

State Secretary Gibson on Wednesday announced transfer of the records to the public archives under the domain of Dr. Gustave Lanctot.

"It's an extensive field of history of great national, military and public interest," said the Dominion archivist, who had been turning down hundreds of requests to see the files.

"Now they will be placed at the disposal of the specialists, learned societies and the general public. The story of the First World War remains to be written."

2 VOLUMES PUBLISHED
The army attempted to complete a four-volume history of the war. Two volumes were written and then the work was suspended.

The documents extend from defence department policy in the training and administration of the Canadian Expeditionary Force to the regimental records of the units in action.

The difficulty, of course, complained Dr. Lanctot, was that the documents were scattered. Some were in Ottawa in two storage buildings and some were at Kingston, Ont.

"It's like our war trophies," he said. "We have many trophies but there's no place for them."

However, a block-long four-story stone building is scheduled to be built to hold the story of the Canadian war dead.

2nd Three-Color Light Signal In Operation

Second group of the new three-color traffic light system for Douglas Street went into operation yesterday. This was at the Johnson Street intersection. As soon as the other three, at Pandora, View and Fort, are installed they will go into action to replace all the centre hanging signals on that street. While there was considerable confusion when the corner-to-corner signals at Yates were first lighted, after a week of operation there has been a decided improvement in the public's knowledge of when the signal is right for them to move.

Mulliner Elected Head Of Auto Club

Ald. Frank G. Mulliner was elected president of the Victoria Automobile Club at the annual meeting held Wednesday in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce. Elected to serve as vice-president was R. W. Hibberson.

George I. Warren was again named treasurer and managing secretary of the club. Elected to the directorate were C. N. Chubb, J. V. Johnson, W. P. D. Pemberton, H. J. Pendray and G. H. Walton.

W. T. Straith, retiring president, reported membership in the club had grown by 27 per cent during the past year. The Victoria Automobile Club is an affiliate of the American Automobile Association.

Ventriloquist Will Star At Sirocco

This Friday and Saturday nights bill at the popular Club Sirocco presents a return engagement of two performers who have proved popular with Victoria audiences. Headlining the bill is Dick Gardner, a clever ventriloquist, who incorporates a startling new twist in his educated dummy routine.

Elaine and Hugo, internationally famous dance team, will present distinctive routines and stylings of several of the more popular dances.

Harry Hugo, billed as England's Harry James, will also perform.

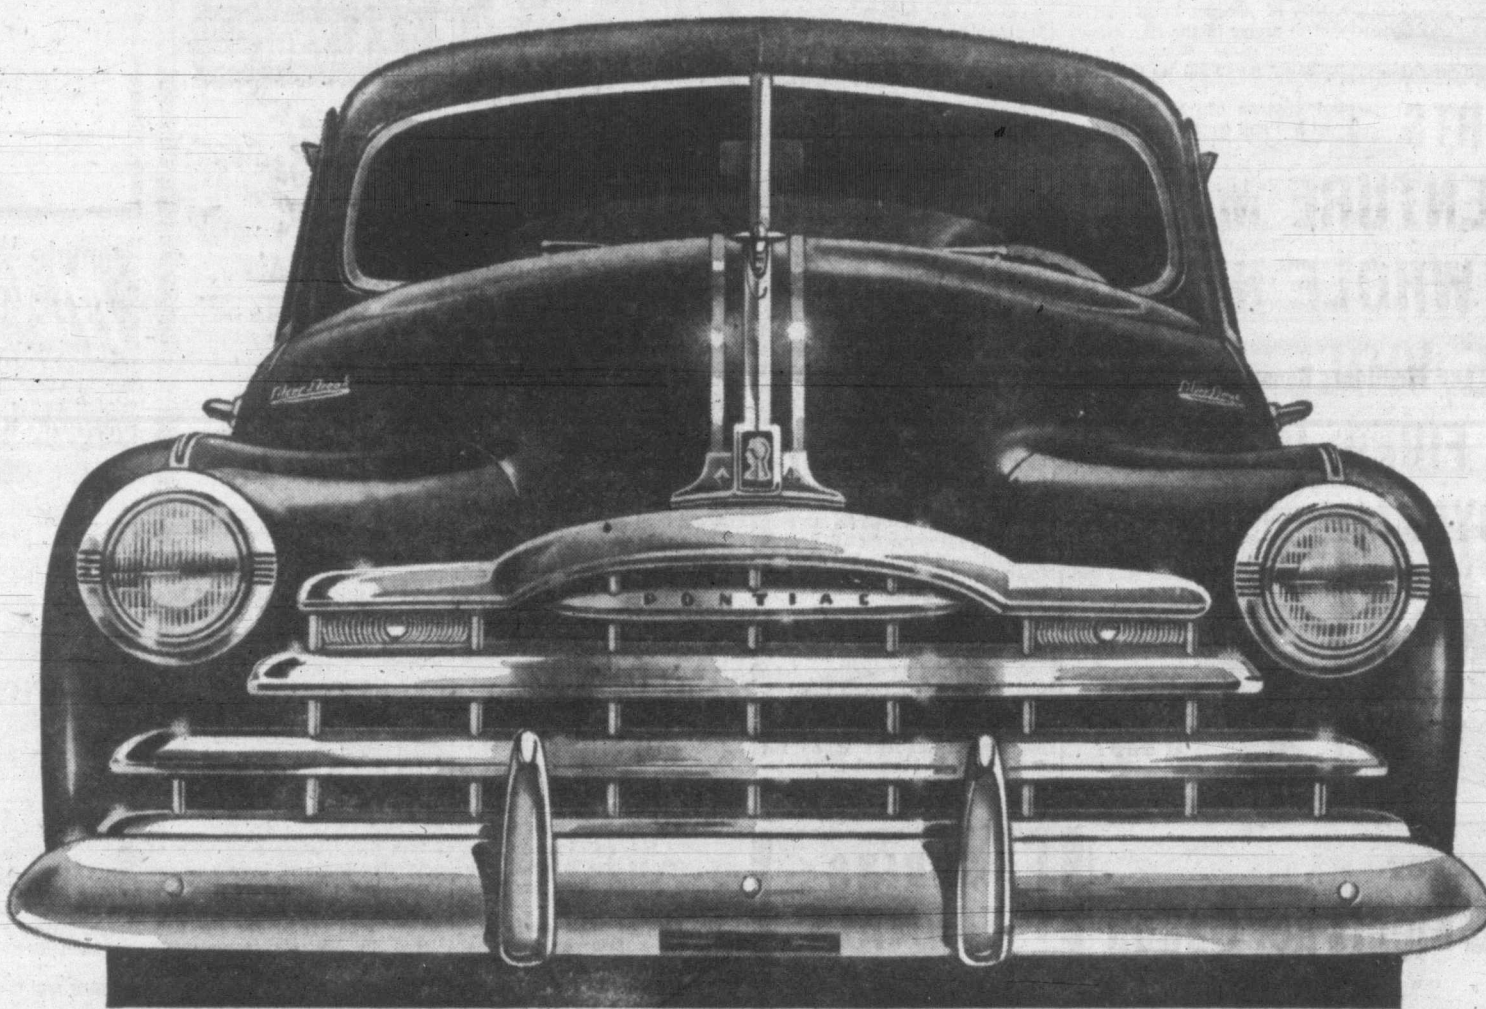

These talented artists will appear at the Club Sirocco Friday and Saturday nights and are presented by the management of the Club Sirocco in co-operation with Canuck Theatre and Art Productions.

Presenting the new 1948 PONTIAC

THE FINEST CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD MADE EVEN FINER!

A Product of General Motors

*Available with certain models at extra cost.

Sixes and Eights with the Famous GM Hydra-Matic Drive!

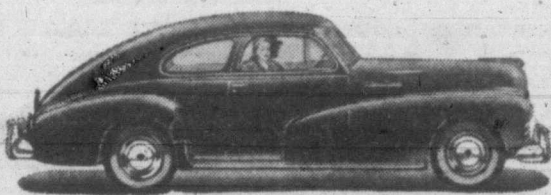

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends. Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive.* Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to offer (as an option) this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal. Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved: Upholsteries are more beautiful and provide new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design, and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis retain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

A wide range of Pontiacs is produced in many body types and striking colours, with six and eight cylinder engines, and with wheelbases of 116" and 119". This triumph of engineering stands alone in its field for beauty—for performance—for comfort—and for dependability. Again for 1948—it is truly THE FINEST CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD.

Births Climb To All-Time Record In British Columbia During 1947

Births in British Columbia climbed to an all-time record in 1947, the division of vital statistics reported today, and the excess of births over deaths gave the province a natural increase for the year of 14,736.

Last year births totaled 24,783, sending the birth rate per 1,000 population to an all-time high of 24.4. The rate exceeded the previous record, set in 1914, when 23.6 babies were born for every 1,000 persons in the province. B.C.'s population today, however, is more than double that of 1914. The division reported the natural increase in 1946 at 11,910, the previous high.

Little increase in the number of deaths was recorded in 1947 over 1946. Deaths registered in 1947 totaled 10,047, compared with 9,549 during 1946. The rate jumped from 9.8 to 9.9.

Last year B.C. brides flouted tradition which claims June is the month for marriages. More marriages were recorded last year in July than any other month. The year total was 11,684, giving a rate of 11.5 per 1,000 population, compared with 11.618 in 1946 when the rate was 11.9. A decrease in divorces was recorded during 1947, the total being 1,826, compared with 2,006 during the previous year. Children involved in divorces during last year totaled 1,321, compared with 1,489 during the previous year.

On the other hand the number of adoptions rose from 368 in 1946 to 492 in 1947. During December of last year 53 adoptions were recorded, compared with 17 during the previous December.

Illegitimate births during 1947 totaled 1,184, compared with 1,140 in 1946.

Despite a sharp drop during December, infant deaths rose for the whole year to give a rate of 30.1 per 1,000 live births, compared with 29.2 for 1946.

No marked difference was noted in maternal death totals for 1937, the rate continuing at 1.3 per 1,000 live births.

Time For PARADOL

"Do women need to suffer so?"—mothers are often asked. One mother writes:
"The company nurse recommended Paradol when my daughter found she would lose her job because of time lost each month. Now she loses no time and does not suffer pain or discomfort needlessly."
Paradol is the answer for women who suffer each month. Quick relief also from headaches and neuralgic pains. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance. Paradol is your pure Paradol in your purse.

15 Years Ago Today Roosevelt Took Oath; Made Historic Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifteen years ago today tradition-smashing Franklin D. Roosevelt started his presidential career by smashing a tradition.

When Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes read the Presidential oath of office, Roosevelt did not follow with the usual phrase-by-phrase repetition of the oath. He waited until Hughes had finished and then repeated the entire 35-word pledge in one unbroken statement.

Then, in an effort to bolster the spirit of a country with a bad case of hard-times jitters, he launched into a confidence-studded inaugural speech.

"So, first of all," he said, "let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

BROAD POWERS
Pledging government action on "first things first," he said: "I shall ask the Congress for broad executive power as great as the power that would be given me if we were, in fact, invaded by a foreign foe."

Next day he closed the country's banks until they could be reopened on a sounder footing. Then he called Congress into special session for emergency action.

Eight days after his inauguration, Roosevelt began the series of fireside radio chats which delighted his friends, exasperated his enemies and impressed multitudes of voters.

"My friends" sonorously rolled out of loud speakers all over the country. His political showmanship was focussing attention on him as the leader, not of a party so much, as of a country.

In 10 months he made 20 radio talks, a record-setting performance for a president.

BILLS SPEEDILY PASSED
During his famous "100 days," Congress swiftly ground out legislation, tailored almost completely to his order. He bombarded Congress with messages. Revolutionary economic measures sometimes swept through both Houses in a single day.

To aid an estimated 12,000,000 unemployed, Congress approved a $3,300,000,000 public works program. A fund of $500,000,000 was voted for states which matched federal money in furnishing food and shelter for the needy.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada was urged in the Commons Wednesday to give leadership to the smaller nations and tell the world in a frank and courageous statement how she feels about the advance of communism across the borders of Europe.

The call came from a Progressive Conservative spokesman—31-year-old E. D. Fulton of Kamloops—who drew a parallel between what is happening in Europe today and the upheavals that preceded the Second World War.

Referring to the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, he said that while other countries have issued strongly-worded statements that left no doubt as to where they stand and what they think, Canada appeared to be accepting what was going on behind the Iron Curtain.

COURAGEOUS COURSE
Mr. Fulton referred to the resignation of Dr. Frantisek Nemecek, Czechoslovakian Minister to Canada, and said he was sure it was a "proper and courageous gesture."

He regretted Canada had withdrawn her occupation troops from Germany, where they would have had a window pane through which to look at European developments.

Mr. Fulton said one of the reasons for the Second World War was the unwillingness of countries to state their stand on events which occurred during 1935 and 1939.

He also asked that the Dominion undertake, in co-operation with the provinces, the building of a trans-Canada highway, and extend the provisions of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to British Columbia.

Mr. Fulton's address highlighted the dying Throne Speech debate, expected to reach its conclusion today.

Jean Francois Poullot, Ind. Lib. Temiscouata, Que., objected to the action Tuesday night of two British Columbia members—George Cruickshank, Lib. Fraser Valley, and James Sinclair, Lib. North Vancouver—in attempting to "howl down" a member, J. I. Hamel, B.P., St. Maurice-Lafleche, Que., who was speaking in French.

(The two British Columbians had protested that Speaker Gaudet was not enforcing the rule against the reading of speeches.)

At the House opening, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the chamber he hoped to make a statement today on the case of the celebrated Polish art treasures.

Trade Minister Howe said the government was considering a request from Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan for advice on complementary provincial legislation to facilitate the placing of oats and barley under the Canadian Wheat Board.

Aided P.O.W.; Freed
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Miss Gloria Sammartino, 25-year-old waitress, was acquitted Wednesday by a federal court jury of sheltering an escaped German prisoner of war. Her counsel contended Miss Sammartino's common-law marriage to the escaped prisoner, George Rudolf von Hyeberg, was legal in Pennsylvania, where they lived for several weeks. She did "nothing more than any wife would do," he argued.

Canadian Bonds

MONTREAL (CP)—Dominions were firm in light trading on the bond market today while provincials remained unchanged.

Dealings were a shade more active in corporate issues but prices were weaker throughout the list. Bids were lower on Bell, Shawinigan 3½'s of 70 and 3's of '61. Paper bonds were easier with the exception of Consolidated Paper which held firm.
